

SNAPSHOT | A-N MAGAZINE | DECEMBER 2009 / JANUARY 2010

SNAPSHOT

*Jack Hutchinson
with highlights
of what's on in Dec/Jan around
the UK and beyond.*

Rubbernecking, the slang expression for gawking at someone or something, underscores the work of Phillip Allen, Rose Wylie and Jake Clark at Transition Gallery (London, 4 December – 10 January). Each artist is concerned with new ways of applying paint to create personal and fresh images that crash with the faded Festival of Britain feeling that permeates the surfaces of their work creating a counter-intuitive, bang-up-to-date contemporary.

www.transitiongallery.co.uk